Nation's top tax association partners with cybersecurity information, education organization

Cybersecurity proves to be unrelenting issue for tax pros in 2024

APPLETON, Wis. (May 30, 2024) – The National Association of Tax Professionals (NATP) is pleased to announce its newest partnership with Financial Guardians, the premier source for industry-related cybersecurity information for the tax preparation and financial services industry. This strategic alliance marks a significant milestone in NATP's ongoing commitment to providing nationwide resources and support to tax professionals.

As the threat landscape continues to evolve in the digital age, cybersecurity has become an increasingly vital aspect of tax preparation and financial services. Recognizing the importance of safeguarding sensitive client information, NATP has partnered with Financial Guardians to offer exclusive benefits to its members.

Through this partnership, NATP members receive a 30 percent discount off the standard Guardian Tier Membership offered by Financial Guardians. The NATP Guardian Package provides access to essential cybersecurity resources and includes additional content tailored to security tax professionals, empowering them to grow and secure their firms effectively.

Scott Artman, CPA, CGMA, CEO of NATP, expressed his delight at the collaboration. He stated, "We are thrilled to partner with Financial Guardians to enhance the resources available to our members. Cybersecurity is a paramount concern in our industry, and by joining forces with Financial Guardians, we are equipping our members with the tools and knowledge they need to protect their clients and their practices."

The NATP Guardian Package offers a comprehensive suite of resources, including expert insights, training modules and actionable strategies for effectively mitigating cybersecurity risks. For 45 years, NATP has been dedicated to supporting tax professionals in their quest for excellence. Through strategic partnerships like this one with Financial Guardians, NATP continues to uphold its commitment to providing unparalleled value to its members and the tax industry.
